About the Board of Visitors

The Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors is composed of 16 voting members appointed by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, subject to confirmation by the General Assembly. Each member serves a term of four years. In addition, each year the Board selects an undergraduate student, a graduate student, a faculty member, and a staff member to serve as nonvoting advisory representatives on the Board of Visitors.

As public trustees the Board has the responsibility and authority, subject to constitutional and statutory limitations, for the continuing operation, development of evolving policies, and financial oversight of VCU.

The Board and the University are at all times subject to the control and legislative enactments of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Board in executing their duties has adopted the Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors Bylaws to provide for the orderly, consistent, and efficient conduct of its business as the governing body of the University.

VCU Board of Visitors
Statement on Governance
(adopted Dec. 13, 2019)

In carrying out its responsibilities, the following expectations are attendant to service on the Board of Visitors:

• Board members are expected to devote the necessary time, attention and preparation to Board activities to function effectively and to enable the Board as a whole to function effectively, including new Board of Visitor orientations, committee meetings, Board retreats and public meetings.

• Board members are expected to understand the Virginia Freedom of Information Act and act accordingly.

• Board members are expected to defer to the Rector and Vice-Rector of the Board for public comment on matters before the Board, or to make clear that any opinions expressed are expressed as an individual rather than on behalf of the Board as a whole.

• Board members are expected to maintain a tradition of exemplifying the highest standards of ethical behavior, and to comply with the University’s Code of Ethics, and to comply with Federal, State and local laws, regulations and policies applicable to Board of Visitors of public colleges and universities in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Special meetings

Special meetings of the Board may be called by the Rector, or in the absence or disability of the Rector, by the Vice-Rector, or by any three members. The requests shall be submitted to Chelsea Gray, Executive Director of Board and Executive Operations, who has the administrative responsibility to make arrangements for special meetings. The purpose, budget, including any proposed/needed tuition and fee increases, occurs at the next sequential BOV meeting which is usually at the May BOV meeting.

Per the VCU Health System Board of Directors Bylaws, the VCU Board of Visitors and VCU Health System Board of Directors shall meet jointly once a year.

The Board schedule is regularly updated and provided to the Board and on the VCU Board of Visitors website (bov.vcu.edu).

In October 2021, Virginia Commonwealth University launched a recalibration process of its strategic goals to better meet our mission in a changing world. The recalibration is an update to meet the vision, mission and values originally established in the Quest 2025 strategic plan. The global pandemic, sweeping social justice movements, new developments in technology and accelerating effects of climate change have forever changed how we engage, work, learn, and live. Thus, our strategic plan must reflect the vision and aspirational goals required to ensure its realization. Quest 2028: One VCU Together We Transform, harnesses the collective power of our community and stakeholders to do just that.

Stakeholder Feedback

In November 2021, VCU collected feedback from internal and external stakeholders, and the following six areas of focus emerged:

- Stakeholders are proud of VCU’s strong commitment to diversity and inclusivity, but more can be done to comprehensively weave the actualization of that commitment throughout all of our work within the university and beyond our borders.

- VCU needs to focus on using our research and expertise to inform needs and solutions in our region.

- VCU excels in providing real-world learning opportunities by leveraging our urban environment as a classroom for students, but we need to provide more of those opportunities for ALL of our students.

- VCU is innovative, welcoming, accepting and engaging, but we need more innovative curricula to meet student and workforce needs, and personalized support to ensure student success.

- We can and need to do more to recruit and retain outstanding staff and faculty.

- We need to confidently tell our One VCU story in bold, engaging ways to strengthen and deepen key relationships with alumni, employers and the community.

Through the stakeholder engagement sessions and survey, individuals often reaffirmed VCU’s mission and identified the need to have an impactful way to bring the stakeholders together when challenges, conflicting priorities and questions of purpose arise. Thus, the One VCU Charge was developed. This charge does not replace VCU or VCU Health mission statements but exists to serve as a rallying cry for our community to remember our why.

One VCU Charge

“We are One VCU, an inclusive public research university and health care system where accessibility combines with excellence to produce exceptional educational and healing results.

Together, we are dedicated to serving the needs of students and patients.

We impact lives through focused global partnerships and commitment to our communities. We research solutions to societal challenges and ignite transformative innovation that matters to the people who need us most.

We prove every day that different works.

As One VCU, we are united by purpose, devoted to inclusion and driven by impact.”
The strategic plan is organized into four interconnected themes that address the six focus areas identified by stakeholders, in addition to the significant issues faced by many institutions of higher education, also identified in the Quest 2025 strategic plan. The issues include:

- Growing cynicism that public higher education serves the public good and may not be worth the expense to individuals
- The significant challenge of the rising cost of education and providing affordable access and support for timely degree completion regardless of students’ particular demographic or group
- Increased competition in public higher education for students, faculty, government and philanthropic support, and national prominence
- Dependence on urban universities to lead in solving vexing societal issues, including health and economic vitality
- Recognition that resourcing the plan’s strategic priorities will require an integrated, university approach and will call for hard choices around resource allocation

The four strategic plan themes are:

- Diversity Drives Excellence
- Student Success
- Research and Innovation to Address Societal Challenges
- Thriving Communities
The strategic plan, Quest 2028: One VCU Together We Transform, sets the projected course for VCU for the years 2022 to 2028. Its successful implementation depends upon articulation, integration and implementation of numerous other administrative and academic division and unit strategic plans, which in effect are implementation plans for Quest 2028.

It is expected that by summer 2023 all administrative and academic division and unit plans will be developed and/or updated to align with Quest 2028.

Additionally, several key elements of One VCU are woven into the fabric of this plan. Impact in these areas is essential for VCU to achieve national prominence and maximum success:

- Diversity, equity and inclusion
- Philanthropy
- Branding, communications and marketing
- Human resources, engaged workforce

The 2024-2030 Six-Year Capital Plan is among the most transformative capital plans in VCU’s history and actualizes projects identified in the ONE VCU Master Plan, designed to align university and health system physical spaces with VCU’s mission and strategic goals. These projects will facilitate innovative transdisciplinary and interdisciplinary achievements, allow us to grow our life-enhancing research, provide innovative teaching and learning spaces to prepare students for a new economy, increase enrollment and persistence, enhance the patient experience, support community partnerships, and bring us together as one VCU to serve our students and patients as never before. Projects in the plan are prioritized by need, and, due to the density of VCU’s urban campus, some projects in earlier phases must be complete or underway before projects in later phases can begin. VCU’s Board of Visitors approves a Six-Year Capital Plan every two years.

There is a critical need for research space on VCU’s campuses. As a R1 institution with more than $405M in sponsored research funding (an increase of 49% in the past five years), our research is growing fast among Virginia universities. Sanger Hall, our largest facility where research takes place, is well beyond its useful life, requires frequent emergency repairs, and offers no room for growth. Without modern research space, we run the risk of shutting down labs as well as losing talent and research funding.

VCU now ranks among the top 50 public research universities in the United States according to The National Science Foundation’s Higher Education Research and Development Survey (2021), and was recently named among the top 30 most innovative public universities by U.S. News and World Report. These rankings distinguish VCU as a vibrant public research university where researchers, educators, practitioners and entrepreneurs innovate together to improve lives and address societal challenges such as life-saving and life-altering improvements in human health, healthcare, the environment, education and more.
Front doors & streetscapes

Front doors play an important role for an urban campus. For VCU, they serve as identifiable campus markers and provide a clear sense of arrival to campus without separating us from our wonderful city. Front Doors include VCU letter signage as well as landscape features and intersection improvements that slow vehicular traffic and alert pedestrians. VCU continues to work in partnership with the City of Richmond to improve pedestrian safety.

Classrooms, labs & common spaces

With on-campus space at a premium, new classroom, lab, and common spaces are mission-critical for VCU. The Interdisciplinary Classroom and Laboratory Building will provide modern interdisciplinary classrooms and class laboratory spaces, including innovative "hyflex" capabilities that allow faculty to seamlessly address both in-person and remote students in new and engaging ways. Once constructed, classes and labs taking place in VCU’s Temple Building and Oliver Hall will relocate to the new site, making it possible to demolish, renovate and repurpose older campus buildings and spaces and make way for campus green space.

Student commons & iconic green

A top recruitment driver and often a prospective student’s first impression, a new Student Commons will serve as the epicenter of student life, wellness, community engagement and learning outside of the classroom. The new facility will replace the existing, undersized Student Commons. Our ONE VCU Master Plan process also reaffirmed that student retention and satisfaction are interconnected with green space and includes an iconic green that will provide much-desired open space for passive recreation and serve as the nexus of programmatic synergies.

Student housing

Updated Honors Housing along Grace Street will offer much-needed residential housing as well as active ground-floor retail and gathering spaces that will further build upon activity along the campus “main street.” Johnson Hall renovations and, eventually, housing on the Academic Medical Center Campus will significantly improve housing capacity for undergraduate students. Students who live in campus-managed housing have higher retention and graduation rates and grades than students who do not. Even one year in campus-managed housing has positive impacts on retention and graduation. Coupled with iconic green spaces and front doors, housing and retail will strengthen the feeling of VCU as a welcoming and safe home for students.

School of Pharmacy

The VCU School of Pharmacy is the only public school of pharmacy in the Commonwealth and ranks in the top 20 of schools of pharmacy nationwide as reported by U.S. News and World Report. The school’s facilities were recently cited during their 2022 accreditation visit for challenges associated with didactic teaching and experiential lab space. Moreover, School of Pharmacy faculty, staff and students are located in three separate buildings, hampering co-location and collaboration. A new School of Pharmacy building would enhance recruitment by matching or surpassing facilities associated with neighboring peer institutions, further research excellence in drug discovery, and support enrollment growth as the school looks to create a new undergraduate degree program.

Athletics

For VCU’s NCAA Division I teams who bring home A-10 conference titles year after year, an off-campus VCU Athletics Village will offer new sports fields and facilities, including outdoor track facilities and practice fields, a tennis center, soccer stadium, and an indoor field house. This plan returns on-campus real estate to serve academic and student needs, reduces travel and increases practice times for teams, and offers new opportunities for community impact through youth programming. During the ONE VCU Master Plan process, VCU Athletics conducted a planning study and determined that a new site, off the main-campus footprint, would allow for the real estate to serve academic and student needs, reduce travel and increases practice times for teams, and offers new opportunities for community impact through youth programming. During the ONE VCU Master Plan process, VCU Athletics conducted a planning study and determined that a new site, off the main-campus footprint, would allow for the real estate to serve academic and student needs, reduce travel and increases practice times for teams, and offers new opportunities for community impact through youth programming.

Responsible Office: Office of the President
Initial Policy Approved: 09/18/2015
Current Revision Approved: March 23, 2023

Policy Statement and Purpose

This policy shall apply, strictly and uniformly, to the entire membership and without regard to the identity of the individual member requesting remote participation or to the matters slated for consideration or vote at the meeting.

Participation by an individual member from a remote location is authorized only when a quorum of the Board or committee is physically assembled at the primary meeting location and the voice of the remote participant is able to be heard by all persons at the primary meeting location. The fact of the disability or other medical condition that prevented physical attendance, or the fact of a family member’s medical condition requires the member to provide care for such family member prevented physical attendance, or the fact that the distance between the member’s principal residence and the meeting location is more than 60 miles, or the specific nature of the personal matter and the remote location from which the member participates will be recorded in the meeting minutes.

Individual participation from a remote location shall be approved unless such participation would violate this policy or FOIA. If such participation from a remote location would violate this policy or FOIA, such disapproval will be recorded in the Board minutes with specificity.

When individual remote participation is due to a personal matter, such participation is limited each calendar year to two meetings or 25 percent of the meetings held per calendar year rounded up to the next whole number, whichever is greater.

For public transparency real-time electronic access to such meetings will be posted on the Board website with the agenda.

All-virtual meetings must follow the procedures as set forth in this policy.

§ 23.1-303. Calculation of state general fund share of an institution’s basic operations and instruction funding need; cost of education

A. Following consultation with each public institution of higher education and the Higher Education Advisory Committee described in § 23.1-309, the Council shall calculate the basic operations and instruction funding need of each public institution of higher education as provided in subsection B for each year of the next biennium and make such calculation available to the Governor, the General Assembly, and all public institutions of higher education. The Governor shall take into account each institution’s basic operations and instruction funding need and the Commonwealth’s funding split policy established in the general appropriation act by which 67 percent of an institution’s cost of education for Virginia students is funded from the state general fund and 33 percent from funds other than the state general fund during the preparation of his proposed biennial budget bill for the next biennium, and the General Assembly shall take such items into account in enacting the general appropriation act for the next biennium. Between such biennial recalculations, the General Assembly may increase or decrease the appropriation of basic operations and instruction funding to a public institution of higher education to correspond with an increase or decrease in Virginia undergraduate student enrollment at the institution as provided in § 23.1-304, or the institution’s meeting or not meeting targeted financial incentives listed in § 23.1-305, or for any other purpose deemed appropriate by the General Assembly.

B. The basic operations and instruction funding need of each public institution of higher education for each fiscal year of the biennium shall consist of the sum of (i) the institution’s cost of education for the total enrollment in actual attendance during the fiscal year that ended on June 30 of each odd-numbered year, which shall be determined using a cost-based funding policy that consists of (a) a set of formulas for calculating (1) educational cost based on faculty-student ratios by discipline and level and (2) the educational and general programs of instruction, academic support, student services, institutional support, and operation and maintenance of physical plant and (b) adjustments based on particular state policies or specific institutional missions or conditions; (ii) the amount required to reach the Commonwealth’s faculty salary goal of the 60th percentile of the most recently reported average faculty salaries paid by that institution’s peer institutions as established in the general appropriation act; and (iii) such other funding for educational and general services as the General Assembly may appropriate.

C. State general funds shall be allocated and appropriated to public institutions of higher education in a fair and equitable manner such that, to the extent practicable, the percentage of the cost of education for Virginia students enrolled at an institution to be funded from state general funds is the same for each institution. To the extent that the percentages differ among institutions, that fact shall be taken into account as the Governor deems appropriate in his proposed biennial budget bill and by the General Assembly as it deems appropriate in the general appropriation act.

§ 23.1-305. Public institutions of higher education; targeted economic and innovation incentives

A. The Governor shall consider and may recommend and the General Assembly shall consider and may fund targeted economic and innovation incentives to achieve the objective and purposes of this chapter. Such incentives may include incentives based on the economic opportunity metrics developed pursuant to subdivision B 4 of § 23.1-309 and incentives for:

1. Increased enrollment of Virginia students, in addition to the per student funding provided by § 23.1-304;

2. Increased degree completion for Virginia residents who have partial credit completion for a degree;

3. Increased degree completion in a timely or expedited manner;

4. Improved retention and graduation rates;

5. Increased degree production in STEM or other high-need areas such as the health care-related professions;

6. Increased research, including regional and public-private collaboration;

7. Optimal year-round utilization of resources and other efficiency reforms designed to reduce total institutional cost;

8. Technology-enhanced instruction, including course redesign, online instruction, and resource sharing among institutions; and

9. Enhanced comprehensive community college transfer programs and grants and other enhanced degree path programs.

B. The Governor and the General Assembly shall consider maintenance of effort initiatives for individual institutions with unique missions and demonstrable performance in specific incentive areas identified pursuant to subsection A.

C. The criteria for measuring whether the incentive areas in subsection A have been met, and the benefits or consequences for meeting or not meeting such incentive areas, shall be developed and reviewed as provided in subdivisions B 3 and 4 of § 23.1-509.

The chapters of the acts of assembly referenced in the historical citation at the end of this section(s) may not constitute a comprehensive list of such chapters and may exclude chapters whose provisions have expired.
§ 23.1-306. Public institutions of higher education; six-year plans; institutional partnership performance agreements

A. The governing board of each public institution of higher education shall (i) develop and adopt biennially in odd-numbered years and amend or affirm biennially in even-numbered years a six-year plan for the institution; (ii) submit a preliminary version of such plan to the Council, the General Assembly, the Governor, and the Chairmen of the House Committee on Appropriations, the House Committee on Education, the Senate Committee on Education and Health, and the Senate Committee on Finance and Appropriations no later than July 1 of each odd-numbered year; and (iii) submit preliminary amendments to or a preliminary affirmation of each such plan to the Council, the General Assembly, the Governor, and the Chairmen of the House Committee on Appropriations, the House Committee on Education, the Senate Committee on Education and Health, and the Senate Committee on Finance and Appropriations no later than July 1 of each even-numbered year. Each such preliminary plan and preliminary amendment to or preliminary affirmation of such plan shall include a report of the institution’s active contributions to efforts to stimulate the economic development of the Commonwealth, the area in which the institution is located, and, for those institutions subject to a management agreement set forth in Article 4 (§ 23.1-1004 et seq.) of Chapter 10, the areas that lag behind the Commonwealth in terms of income, employment, and other factors. Each such preliminary plan and preliminary amendment to or preliminary affirmation of such plan shall be submitted as a report document as provided in the procedures of the Division of Legislative Automated Systems for the processing of legislative documents and reports. No such preliminary plan, amendments, or affirmation shall be posted on the General Assembly’s website.

B. The Secretary of Finance, the Secretary of Education, the Director of the Department of Planning and Budget, the Director of the Council, the Staff Director of the House Committee on Appropriations, and the Staff Director of the Senate Committee on Finance and Appropriations, or their designees, shall review each institution’s preliminary plan, amendments, or affirmation and provide comments to the institution on such plan, amendments, or affirmation by September 1 of the relevant year. Each institution shall respond to any such comments by October 1 of that year and submit a finalized version of such plan, amendments, or affirmation to the Council, the General Assembly, the Governor, and the Chairmen of the House Committee on Appropriations, the House Committee on Education, the Senate Committee on Education and Health, and the Senate Committee on Finance and Appropriations no later than December 1 of that year. Each such finalized version shall be submitted as a report document as provided in the procedures of the Division of Legislative Automated Systems for the processing of legislative documents and reports and shall be posted on the General Assembly’s website.

C. Each plan shall be structured in accordance with, and be consistent with, the objective and purposes of this chapter set forth in § 23.1-301 and the criteria developed pursuant to § 23.1-309 and shall be in a form and manner prescribed by the Council, in consultation with the Secretary of Finance, the Secretary of Education, the Director of the Department of Planning and Budget, the Director of the Council, the Staff Director of the House Committee on Appropriations, and the Staff Director of the Senate Committee on Finance and Appropriations, or their designees.

D. Each six-year plan shall (i) address the institution’s academic, financial, and enrollment plans, including the number of Virginia and non-Virginia students, for the six-year period; (ii) indicate the planned use of any projected increase in general fund, tuition, or other nongeneral fund revenues; (iii) be based upon any assumptions provided by the Council, following consultation with the Department of Planning and Budget and the staffs of the House Committee on Appropriations and the Senate Committee on Finance and Appropriations, for funding relating to state general fund support pursuant to §§ 23.1-303, 23.1-304, and 23.1-305 and subdivision 9; (iv) be aligned with the institution’s six-year enrollment projections; and (v) include:

1. Financial planning reflecting the institution’s anticipated level of general fund, tuition, and other nongeneral fund support for each year of the next biennium;

2. The institution’s anticipated annual tuition and educational and general fee charges required by (i) degree level and (ii) domiciliary status, as provided in § 23.1-307;

3. Plans for providing financial aid to help mitigate the impact of tuition and fee increases on low-income and middle-income students and their families as described in subdivision 9, including the projected mix of grants and loans;

4. Degree conferral targets for undergraduate Virginia students;

5. Plans for optimal year-round use of the institution’s facilities and instructional resources;

6. Plans for the development of an instructional resource-sharing program with other public institutions of higher education and private institutions of higher education;

7. Plans with regard to any other incentives set forth in § 23.1-305 or any other matters the institution deems appropriate;

8. The identification of (i) new programs or initiatives including quality improvements and (ii) institution-specific funding based on particular state policies or institution-specific programs, or both, as provided in subsection C of § 23.1-307; and

9. An institutional student financial aid commitment that, in conjunction with general funds appropriated for that purpose, provides assistance to students from both low-income and middle-income families and takes into account the information and recommendations resulting from the review of federal and state financial aid programs and institutional practices conducted pursuant to subdivisions B 2 and C 1 of § 23.1-309.

E. In developing such plans, each public institution of higher education shall consider potential future impacts of tuition increases on the Virginia College Savings Plan and ABLE Savings Trust Accounts (§ 23.1-700 et seq.) and shall discuss such potential impacts with the Virginia College Savings Plan. The chief executive officer of the Virginia College Savings Plan shall provide to each institution the Plan’s assumptions underlying the contract pricing of the program.

F. 1. In conjunction with the plans included in the six-year plan as set forth in subsection D, each public institution of higher education, Richard Bland College, and the Virginia Community College System may submit one innovative proposal with clearly defined performance measures, including any request for necessary authority or support from the Commonwealth, for a performance pilot. If the General Assembly approves the proposed performance pilot, it shall include approval language in the general appropriation act. A performance pilot shall advance the objectives of this chapter by addressing innovative requests related to college access, affordability, cost predictability, enrollment management subject to specified commitments regarding undergraduate in-state student enrollment, alternative tuition and fee structures and affordable pathways to degree attainment, internships and work study, employment pathways for undergraduate Virginia students, strategic talent development, state or regional economic development, pathways to increase timely degree completion, or other priorities set out in the general appropriation act.

2. A performance pilot may include or constitute an institutional partnership performance agreement, which shall be set forth in a memorandum of understanding that includes mutually dependent commitments by the institution, the Commonwealth, and identified partners, if any, related to one or more of the priorities set forth in subdivision 1 or set forth in a general appropriation act. No such institutional partnership performance agreement shall create a legally enforceable obligation of the Commonwealth.

3. No more than six performance pilots shall be approved in a single session of the General Assembly.

4. Development and approval of any performance pilot proposal shall proceed in tandem with consideration of the institution’s six-year plan, as follows:

   a. An institution that intends to propose a performance pilot shall communicate that intention as early as practicable, but not later than April 1 of the year in which the performance pilot will be proposed, to the reviewers listed in subsection B, the co-chairmen of the Joint Subcommittee on the Future Competitiveness of Virginia Higher Education, and the Governor. In developing a proposed performance pilot, the institution shall consider the Commonwealth’s educational and economic policies and priorities, including those reflected in the Virginia Plan for Higher Education issued by the Council, the economic development policy developed pursuant to § 2.2-205, the strategic plan developed pursuant to § 2.2-2237.1, relevant regional economic growth and diversification plans prepared by regional councils pursuant to the Virginia Growth and Opportunity Act (§ 2.2-2484 et seq.), and any additional guidance provided by the Joint Subcommittee on the Future Competitiveness of Virginia Higher Education and the Governor.

   b. An institution that submits a performance pilot shall include the one innovative proposal with clearly defined performance measures, and any corresponding authority and support requested from the Commonwealth, with its submission of the preliminary version of its six-year plan pursuant to clause (ii) of subsection A or with its preliminary amendment or affirmation submission pursuant to clause (iii) of subsection A.

   c. The reviewers listed in subsection B, or their designees, shall review and comment on any proposed performance pilot in accordance with the six-year plan review and comment process established in subsection B and may expedite such review and comment process to facilitate the executive and legislative budget process or for other reasons. No later than October 15 of the relevant year, the reviewers shall communicate to the Governor and the Chairmen of the House Committee on Appropriations and the Senate Committee on Finance and Appropriations their recommendations regarding each performance pilot proposal. Such recommendations shall include the reviewers’ comments regarding how the proposed performance pilots, individually and collectively, support the strategic educational and economic policies of the Commonwealth.
d. Each performance pilot proposal shall include evidence of its approval by the institution’s governing board and, if accepted, shall be referenced in the general appropriation act.

The chapters of the acts of assembly referenced in the historical citation at the end of this section(s) may not constitute a comprehensive list of such chapters and may exclude chapters

§ 23.1-307. Public institutions of higher education; tuition and fees

A. The governing board of each public institution of higher education shall continue to fix, revise, charge, and collect tuition, fees, rates, rentals, and other charges for the services, goods, or facilities furnished by or on behalf of such institution and may adopt policies regarding any such service rendered or the use, occupancy, or operation of any such facility.

B. Except to the extent included in the institution’s six-year plan as provided in subsection C, if the total of an institution’s tuition and educational and general fees for any fiscal year for Virginia students exceeds the difference for such fiscal year between (i) the institution’s cost of education for all students, as calculated pursuant to clause (i) of subsection B of § 23.1-303 and (ii) the sum of the tuition and educational and general fees for non-Virginia students, the state general funds appropriated for its basic operations and instruction pursuant to subsection A of § 23.1-303, and its per student funding provided pursuant to § 23.1-304, the institution shall forgo new state funding at a level above the general funds received by the institution during the 2011-2012 fiscal year, at the discretion of the General Assembly, and shall be obligated to provide increased financial aid to maintain affordability for students from low-income and middle-income families. This limitation shall not apply to any portion of tuition and educational and general fees for Virginia students allocated to student financial aid, an institution’s share of state-mandated salary or fringe benefit increases, increases in funds other than state general funds for the improvement of faculty salary competitiveness above the level included in the calculation in clause (i) of subsection B of § 23.1-303, the institution’s progress towards achieving any financial incentive pursuant to § 23.1-305, unavoidable cost increases such as operation and maintenance for new facilities and utility rate increases, or other items directly attributable to an institution’s unique mission and contributions.

C. Nothing in subsection B shall prohibit an institution from including in its six-year plan required by § 23.1-306 (i) new programs or initiatives including quality improvements or (ii) institution-specific funding based on particular state policies or institution-specific programs, or both, that will cause the total of the institution’s tuition and educational and general fees for any fiscal year for Virginia students to exceed the difference for such fiscal year between (a) the institution’s cost of education for all students, as calculated pursuant to clause (i) of subsection B of § 23.1-303, and (b) the sum of the tuition and educational and general fees for the institution’s non-Virginia students, the state general funds appropriated for its basic operations and instruction pursuant to subsection A of § 23.1-303, and its per student funding provided pursuant to § 23.1-304.

D. No governing board of any public institution of higher education shall approve an increase in undergraduate tuition or mandatory fees without providing students and the public a projected range of the planned increase, an explanation of the need for the increase, and notice of (i) the date, time, and location of the meeting at which public comment is permitted pursuant to subsection E on the institution’s website and through any other standard means of communication utilized by the institution with students at least 10 days prior to such meeting.
and (ii) the date and location of any vote on such increase at least 30 days prior to such vote.

E. Prior to any vote referenced in subsection D, the governing board of each public institution of higher education shall permit public comment on the proposed increase at a meeting, as that term is defined in § 2.2-3701, of the governing board. Each such governing board shall establish policies for such public comment, which may include reasonable time limitations.

F. At any meeting at which the governing board of a public institution of higher education approves an increase in undergraduate tuition and mandatory fees, the governing board shall provide an explanation of any deviation from the projected range provided pursuant to subsection D.

G. No later than August 1 of each year, the Council shall provide to the Governor and the Chairmen of the House Committee on Appropriations, the House Committee on Education, the Senate Committee on Education and Health, and the Senate Committee on Finance and Appropriations a report on any increase in undergraduate tuition and mandatory fees at a public institution of higher education, the public comment relating to such increase in undergraduate tuition and mandatory fees, and any deviation in the increase in undergraduate tuition and mandatory fees from the increase projected in the institutional six-year plan provided pursuant to § 23.1-306.

E-MAIL:
USE, ACCESS & RETENTION

The use of e-mail in the business place has become routine and is a preferred mode of communication. For state and local government officials and employees, the application of the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) relating to access to records and the Virginia Public Records Act (the PRA) relating to the retention of records comes into play.

Government officials and employees frequently ask two key questions about the use of e-mail -- "Can the public and media access my e-mail under FOIA?" and "Do I have to save my e-mail?"

This document will attempt to answer these questions and provide guidance about the use and management of e-mail by state and local government.

The nature of e-mail
E-mail generally refers to any communication that requires an electronic device for storage and/or transmission. E-mail is a medium for correspondence -- essentially, e-mail is the "envelope" for the communication. For purposes of FOIA & the PRA, e-mail provides a medium for communication, much like a telephone or the U.S. Mail provides a means of communication. The fact that a communication is sent via e-mail is not alone conclusive of whether that e-mail must be accessible to the public under FOIA or retained pursuant to the PRA; one must look at the text and substance of the communication to determine whether it is indeed a public record.

The Virginia Freedom of Information Act
FOIA addresses access to public records. Section 2.2-3701 of the Code of Virginia defines public records for purposes of FOIA to include "all writings and recordings that consist of letters, words or numbers, or their equivalent, set down by handwriting, typewriting, printing, photostatting, photography, magnetic impulse, optical or magneto-optical form, mechanical or electronic recording or other form of data compilation, however stored, regardless of physical form or characteristics, prepared or owned by, or in the possession of a public body or its officers, employees or agents in the transaction of public business."

1 Library of Virginia, Electronic Records Guidelines (effective June 10, 2002).
Clearly an e-mail would fall under this broad definition of a public record, because it applies to all writings and recordings...set down by...mechanical or electronic recording...however stored, regardless of physical form or characteristics. As noted above, e-mail is just the medium, or the envelope, used to convey the communication. Just as a letter sent via U.S. Mail from one public official to another concerning public business would be a public record under FOIA, so would that same communication sent via e-mail.

FOIA requires that unless subject to a statutory exemption, all public records must be open to inspection and copying. Therefore, an e-mail relating to public business would be accessible just like any other public record, and may be withheld from public disclosure only if a particular exemption applies to the content of the e-mail.

The Virginia Public Records Act
While FOIA governs access to records held by state and local government, the PRA governs how long a government entity must retain certain records. The PRA defines "public record" for purposes of records retention, and like FOIA, the definition is fairly broad and would include e-mail as a public record. Section 42.1-77 defines a public record to include recorded information that documents a transaction or activity by or with any public officer, agency or employee of the state government or its political subdivisions. Regardless of physical form or characteristic, the recorded information is a public record if it is produced, collected, received or retained in pursuance of law or in connection with the transaction of public business.

The PRA sets forth different retention schedules for different types of records. Several factors shape how long a record needs to be held. Many records are only kept for so long as business requires them to be kept, although if a record has historical significance or is created by an agency head or director, it may need to be kept longer. For example, certain records are required to be maintained permanently, such as records from standing committees of the General Assembly, annual reports of state agencies, and correspondence of agency directors. Other records need only be kept so long as they are administratively necessary, such as reminders of events like blood drives or fund raisers, courtesy copies of correspondence, or messages received from a listserv. Along the continuum, other records may be required to be retained for 30 days to ten years, depending on their content. After the retention time has expired for a particular document, then that record may be destroyed pursuant to the guidelines set forth by the Library of Virginia.

In providing guidance for adhering to the PRA, the Library of Virginia notes that e-mail should be treated the same as paper correspondence. Again, e-mail is only the medium, or the envelope, by which the correspondence is sent; the retention schedule for a particular e-mail will depend on its content and should be preserved the same as its paper equivalent. Both incoming and outgoing e-mail should be retained, along with any attachments sent via e-mail.

Tips for using and managing e-mail

All e-mails related to public business are subject to the provisions of FOIA and the PRA, and should be managed in the same manner as all other public records.

There is a tendency with e-mail to hit the delete button as soon as you are finished with a particular message. However, consideration must be given to whether that particular e-mail must be retained for purposes of the PRA -- you can't automatically delete your e-mail, just as you can't automatically throw away paper correspondence and records.

FOIA governs access to records. The PRA dictates how long you are required to keep certain records. If a government entity keeps an e-mail (or any other record) for longer than its retention schedule requires, that e-mail will still be subject to FOIA if requested. Conversely, if a government entity properly disposes of a record pursuant to a retention schedule, and a subsequent FOIA request is made for that record, FOIA does not require the government entity to recreate the record.

E-mail is often used as a substitute for a telephone call, and is quite informal. However, e-mail creates a record of that communication that must be retained pursuant to the PRA and will be available upon request to the public under FOIA. Consider the consequence of choice to use e-mail instead of the telephone -- it may not be in your best interest to be as informal on e-mail as you are on the telephone.

The Library of Virginia discourages the practice of maintaining permanent records solely in electronic format, without a paper or microfilm backup. For records that do not need to be maintained permanently, these e-mails can be printed out and stored in a traditional, paper file (and the electronic copy can be deleted) or electronic folders can be created on the computer to organize e-mails based on functions, subjects or activities. The Library of Virginia suggests that these folders are assigned to your home directory on the computer, and not on the network.

Public officials and employees should not commingle personal and official e-mails. Private e-mails do not need to be retained; e-mails relating to the transaction of public business do. From an e-mail management perspective, it is probably not a good idea to mix personal and official business in the same e-mail. Official e-mails that need to be retained should be maintained with other public records that relate to the same content.

Tips for Best Practice
Where do I go for more information?

The Virginia Freedom of Information Advisory Council receives many questions about how to handle requests for copies of social media posts and questions about whether the use of social media may constitute a meeting subject to the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). This guide compiles answers to a number of frequently asked questions as a reference to help determine the FOIA implications for social media use and to provide tips for best practice and additional resources.

What exactly is “social media” for the purposes of FOIA?

FOIA does not define “social media,” but the Code of Virginia defines a “social media account” as “a personal account with an electronic medium or service through which users may create, share, or view user-generated content, including, without limitation, videos, photographs, blogs, podcasts, messages, emails, or website profiles or locations.”¹ This definition covers many of the popular sites and technologies we use every day, such as Facebook and Twitter, but also many less commonly used sites and technologies that continue to proliferate and develop.

Unlike many older forms of communication, various technologies used for social media not only generate records, but also allow multiple users to communicate simultaneously. For example, a paper letter sent through regular mail could generate a record, but does not provide for simultaneous communication. Conversely, a conference call allows simultaneous communication but does not generate a record unless someone specifically takes steps to record the conversation. By contrast, the use of public forums, email messages, Facebook, Twitter, and other forms of social media may both create records and allow simultaneous communication between multiple people. For this reason, different forms of social media may implicate both the public records and the public meetings provisions of FOIA.

Can social media posts be public records?

FOIA does not distinguish between social media and other types of records. As is often the case, technology has developed more quickly than changes in the law. However, the term “public records” is defined broadly to include all types of records that are prepared, owned, or possessed by a public body or its officers, employees, or agents in the transaction of public business. The definition is broad enough to include social media activity. Presuming the posts were made (1) by a public body, official, employee, or agent and (2) in the transaction of public business, then those posts are public records subject to FOIA.

¹ Va. Code § 23.1-405 (providing a definition in the context of students at public institutions of higher education); see also § 40.1-28.7:5 (providing a nearly identical definition in the context of public employees’ social media accounts).

Examples of posts that are “public records” subject to FOIA:

- A town council posts notice of its upcoming public meetings on the town’s Facebook page.
- A state agency posts a link to proposed regulatory changes on Twitter.
- A public employee uses Facebook messages or email to discuss public business with a fellow employee or a citizen. (Note that such messages are public records regardless of what account is used by the public employee.)

Examples of posts that are NOT “public records” subject to FOIA:

- Personal messages that do not pertain to public business (again, regardless of the account used).
- Political messages, such as an announcement of a person’s intent to seek election or reelection to public office.

What about social media posts from other people?

The definition of “public record” includes records merely “in the possession of a public body, its officers, employees or agents in the transaction of public business.” Following that concept, posts made by other persons on the social media account of a public body, official, or employee may be public records IF they are in the transaction of public business.

Examples of posts by others that are “public records” subject to FOIA:

- A citizen makes a FOIA request on a public body’s Facebook page.
- A citizen posts a recommendation on a public matter to a public body’s Twitter account.
- A lobbyist sends email to all members of a public body concerning a matter on the public body’s next meeting agenda.

Examples of posts by others that are NOT “public records” subject to FOIA:

- Various forms of “spam”—such as unsolicited advertisements for a private business posted by a private party onto a public body’s Facebook page.
- “Trolling”—such as purely derogatory comments or attacks on personal character or other “off-topic” posts designed to incite an inflammatory response that do not relate to the transaction of public business. (Note that posts using harsh or pejorative language may still be “public records,” as it is the content that matters, not the way in which it is expressed.)

2 Va. Code § 2.2-3701, “‘Public records’ means all writings and recordings that consist of letters, words or numbers, or their equivalent, set down by handwriting, typewriting, printing, photostatting, photography, magnetic impulse, optical or magneto-optical form, mechanical or electronic recording or other form of data compilation, however stored, and regardless of physical form or characteristics, prepared or owned by, or in the possession of a public body or its officers, employees or agents in the transaction of public business.”
• Posts that are purely personal in nature and do not concern public business (social events with family and friends, jokes, pictures of pets, etc.).

What about record retention?

Record retention is addressed under the Virginia Public Records Act, which is administered by the Library of Virginia. Please see the Library’s “Records Management and Social Networking Sites” guide, available on the Library’s website at https://www.lva.virginia.gov/agencies/records/tips/documents/socialmediatips.pdf.

Can a meeting be conducted on social media?

As noted previously, various types of social media allow multiple people to communicate simultaneously. The definition of “meeting” in FOIA includes:

work sessions, when sitting physically, or through electronic communication means . . . as a body or entity, or as an informal assemblage of (i) as many as three members or (ii) a quorum, if less than three, of the constituent membership, wherever held, with or without minutes being taken, whether or not votes are cast, of any public body.

The definition of “meeting” excludes gatherings of employees of a public body, gatherings of members where there is no discussion or transaction of public business, and certain public forums, candidate appearances, and debates. The definition of “electronic communication” means “the use of technology having electrical, digital, magnetic, wireless, optical, electromagnetic, or similar capabilities to transmit or receive information.”

Reading these definitions together and considering the capabilities of social media, it is clear that if social media is used to discuss or transact public business by three or more members of a public body (or by a quorum, if the quorum is less than three members) assembled together simultaneously (in other words, through “real-time” communications), then that use of social media would constitute a “meeting” subject to FOIA. As such, it would have to comply with rules for electronic meetings set forth in § 2.2-3708.2, which include various heightened procedural requirements and limitations.

3 Va. Code § 2.2-3701, “‘Meeting’ or ‘meetings’ means the meetings including work sessions, when sitting physically, or through electronic communication means pursuant to § 2.2-3708.2, as a body or entity, or as an informal assemblage of (i) as many as three members or (ii) a quorum, if less than three, of the constituent membership, wherever held, with or without minutes being taken, whether or not votes are cast, of any public body. Neither the gathering of employees of a public body nor the gathering or attendance of two or more members of a public body (a) at any place or function where no part of the purpose of such gathering or attendance is the discussion or transaction of any public business, and such gathering or attendance was not called or prearranged with any purpose of discussing or transacting any business of the public body, or (b) at a public forum, candidate appearance, or debate, the purpose of which is to inform the electorate and not to transact public business or to hold discussions relating to the transaction of public business, even though the performance of the members individually or collectively in the conduct of public business may be a topic of discussion or debate at such public meeting, shall be deemed a ‘meeting’ subject to the provisions of this chapter.”

4 Please see the Electronic Meetings Guide published by this office for details regarding electronic meetings.
Tips for Best Practice

- Consider the “consequence of choice”—If a public official or employee uses social media in the transaction of public business, the official or employee may be creating public records that are subject to public disclosure as well as record retention rules.

- Consider record retention of social media whenever possible to facilitate future FOIA requests.

- Avoid inadvertent meetings—If a form of social media allows multiple simultaneous users, then members of a public body using social media could unintentionally conduct a meeting by discussing public business if a sufficient number of other members also participate simultaneously.

- Avoid “meetings within a meeting”—Using social media and devices such as cell phones, members of a public body can be holding a public meeting while assembled together at a public place and, at the same time, be conducting a closed meeting through social media.\(^5\)

Where do I go for more information?

Record retention. As mentioned previously, record retention is addressed under the Virginia Public Records Act and administered by the Library of Virginia. The Library’s website has a Records Management section (http://www.lva.virginia.gov/agencies/records/) that includes contact information, record retention schedules for both state agencies and localities, forms, publications, guidance documents, and other resources.

First Amendment; freedom of speech and public forum issues. It is the understanding of FOIA Council staff that litigation has been brought in multiple jurisdictions, including Virginia, on issues concerning the use of social media by various public officials and public bodies. In addition to the use of social media in the FOIA contexts discussed above, some other issues that have been raised include (1) whether a public official or public body must allow others to post on the official’s or public body’s social media account, (2) whether posts may be edited, hidden, or deleted based on content or by user, (3) whether restrictions may be placed on the use of profanity or insulting language, and (4) whether users may be blocked from accessing or posting. Because all of these issues fall outside of FOIA and therefore outside the statutory authority of the FOIA Council, FOIA Council staff recommends that public bodies and public officials discuss these types of issues with their own attorneys.

2017 OFFICIAL OPINION OF THE OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL HIGHLIGHTING VCUHSA GOVERNANCE AND OVERLAP VCU
INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION; OTHER EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL INSTITUTIONS: VIRGINIA COMMONWEALTH UNIVERSITY HEALTH SYSTEM AUTHORITY

The Supreme Court of Virginia likely would find, in light of the functions and history of the Virginia Commonwealth University Health System Authority ("VCUHSA"), that it is a State agency or arm of the Commonwealth for the purposes of sovereign immunity, and therefore is entitled to absolute immunity from suit. Even if the Court were not to agree, however, VCUHSA also satisfies the criteria of a quasi-municipal corporation and therefore would be entitled to immunity for governmental functions.

The Virginia Tort Claims Act exposes the Commonwealth, but not VCUHSA, to limited liability for the negligent acts of its employees.

The Honorable James P. “Jimmie” Massie III Member, Virginia House of Delegates

December 7, 2017

ISSUE PRESENTED

You have asked whether the Virginia Commonwealth University Health System Authority (the “Authority” or “VCUHSA”) has absolute or qualified immunity from lawsuits that may be brought against it. You also have asked whether the amount of any recovery against VCUHSA for damages, loss of property, or personal injury or death caused by a negligent or wrongful act or omission of its employees is limited to $100,000 in accordance with § 8.01-195.3 of the Code of Virginia.

BACKGROUND

1. History

The origins of the health system now known as VCUHSA date to 1838, and for all but a few years of its history it has served the Commonwealth as a public entity. In 1854, the General Assembly granted an independent charter to [Page 238] the “Medical College of Virginia” (“MCV”), and six years later, MCV transferred its assets to the Commonwealth in return for an appropriation of $30,000. Beginning in 1861, MCV opened and operated a series of hospitals and outpatient clinics. In 1968, the General Assembly merged MCV with the Richmond Professional Institute to form Virginia Commonwealth University (“VCU” or “the University”).

In 1996, the General Assembly enacted, and Governor Allen signed, legislation establishing the Medical College of Virginia Hospitals Authority (“MCVHA”). Pursuant to that legislation, MCVHA was “created as a public body corporate and as a political subdivision of the Commonwealth” and was “constituted [as] a public instrumentality, exercising public and essential governmental functions.” The General Assembly established a deadline of June 30, 1997 “for the transfer of employees to the Authority and for the transfer of hospital facilities, or any parts thereof, to and the assumption, directly or indirectly, of hospital obligations by the Authority.”

In 2000, the name of the authority was changed from MCVHA to “Virginia Commonwealth University Health System Authority.” Under its current governing statute, recently recodified in Title 23.1, VCUHSA remains “a public body corporate, public instrumentality, and political subdivision of the Commonwealth with such public and corporate powers as are set forth in [Code §§ 23.1-2400 through 23.1-2428].”

2. Governance and Leadership

VCUHSA is governed by a 21-member board of directors (the “Board”), consisting of 19 appointed members and two ex officio members: the President of VCU, and VCU’s Vice President for Health Sciences. The rector of VCU appoints five nonlegislative Board members from the VCU Board of Visitors; the Governor appoints six nonlegislative members; the Speaker of the House appoints five Board members; and the Senate Committee on Rules appoints three. Five members of the Board must be physicians who are VCU faculty members with hospital privileges; they are among those appointed by the Governor and General Assembly — two by the Governor, two by the Speaker, and one by the Senate Committee on Rules — “after consideration of names from lists submitted by the faculty physicians of the School of...
Medicine of the University through the Vice-President for Health Sciences of the University.”13 The President of VCU serves as chair of the Board.14

VCUHSA is “under the immediate supervision and direction of a chief executive officer” who is defined as “the individual who holds the title of Vice-President for Health Sciences” at VCU.15 The selection and removal of the CEO of VCUHSA is “made jointly” by the Board and the VCU Board of Visitors.16 In the event that a majority of both boards do not agree on the selection, removal, or conditions of employment of a CEO, and representatives of the boards cannot resolve the disagreement, then the President of VCU “shall decide upon the matter.”17

3. Purposes

You correctly relay that, under § 23.1-2401(B) of the Code of Virginia, the purpose of VCUHSA is “to exercise public and essential governmental functions” — specifically, [Page 240] to provide for the health, welfare, convenience, knowledge, benefit, and prosperity of the residents of the Commonwealth and such other individuals who might be served by the Authority by delivering and supporting the delivery of medical care and related services to such residents and individuals, providing educational opportunities in the medical field and related disciplines, conducting and facilitating research in the medical field and related disciplines, and enhancing the delivery of health care and related services to the Commonwealth's indigent population.[18]

The General Assembly has further enumerated six purposes of VCUHSA, authorizing it to “perform such public and essential government functions with the power and purpose” to:

1. Provide health care, including indigent care, to protect and promote the health and welfare of the citizens of the Commonwealth;

2. Serve as a high-quality teaching hospital to provide and promote health care by educating medical and health sciences professionals, providing medical services not widely available in the Commonwealth, and treating patients of the type and on the scale necessary to facilitate medical research and attract physicians, faculty members, researchers, and other individuals necessary to maintain quality medical and health sciences education;

3. Facilitate and support the health education, research, and public service activities of the Health Sciences Schools of the University;

4. Serve as the principal teaching and training hospital for undergraduate and graduate students of the Health Sciences Schools of the University;

5. Provide a site for faculty members of the Health Sciences [Page 241] Schools of the University to conduct medical and biomedical research; and

6. Operate and manage general hospital and other health care facilities, engaging in specialized management and operational practices to remain economically viable, earning revenues necessary for operations, and participating in arrangements with public and private entities and other activities, taking into account changes that have occurred or may occur in the future in the provision of health care and related services.[19]

The General Assembly also required that the “Authority shall operate, maintain, and expand, as appropriate, teaching hospitals and related facilities for the benefit of the Commonwealth and its citizens and such other individuals who might be served by the Authority.”20

4. Powers

The Authority has been given “all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out the purposes and provisions of” its enabling chapter.21 The Code of Virginia also expressly grants VCUHSA more than two dozen specific powers, including the power to:

• “[s]ue and be sued in its own name”;22
• “[m]ake and execute contracts, guarantees, or any other instruments and agreements necessary or convenient for the exercise of its powers and functions, including contracts with hospitals or health care businesses to [Page 242] operate and manage any or all of the hospital facilities or operations”; 23

• “[c]onduct or engage in any lawful business, activity, effort, or project consistent with the Authority’s purposes or necessary or convenient to exercise its powers”; 24

• exercise all powers granted to corporations not inconsistent with the enabling chapter; 25

• borrow money and issue bonds; 26

• seek financing from and enter into contracts with the Commonwealth, the Virginia Public Building Authority, and the Virginia College Building Authority; 27

• procure insurance or provide self-insurance; 28

• accept loans, grants, contributions, or other assistance from all sources, including the federal government and the Commonwealth; 29 [Page 243]

• “[e]xercise the power of eminent domain . . . to acquire by condemnation any real property . . . that it may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter” when it concludes that acquisition is “in the public interest and necessary for public use” and is approved by the Governor; 30

• “[a]dminister programs to assist in the delivery of medical and related services to the citizens of the Commonwealth and others”; 31 and

• “[e]xercise independently the powers conferred . . . in furtherance of its corporate and public purposes.” 32

The General Assembly concluded its recitation of the Authority’s powers by underscoring the “governmental” nature of its work for the Commonwealth and its residents:

The exercise of the powers permitted by this chapter shall be deemed the performance of essential governmental functions and matters of public necessity for the entire Commonwealth in the provision of health care, medical and health sciences education, and research for which public moneys may be borrowed, loaned, spent, or otherwise utilized and private property may be utilized or acquired. 33

APPLICABLE LAW AND DISCUSSION

I respond to each of your questions in the corresponding sections below. [Page 244]

1. Whether VCUHSA has absolute or qualified immunity from suit.

You ask for confirmation that, “as an agency of the Commonwealth of Virginia,” VCUHSA “itself has absolute or qualified immunity.” The Supreme Court of Virginia has not had occasion to address either whether VCUHSA is “an agency of the Commonwealth” or whether it is entitled to absolute or qualified immunity. While I note that the Secretary of the Commonwealth categorizes VCUHSA as an “independent agency” for the purposes of the organization of state government, 34 it is not necessary to decide whether, in all circumstances, VCUHSA should be treated as an agency. The Attorney General has previously opined that an authority may be considered an agency for some purposes but not others. 35

Thus, in responding to your request, it is sufficient to conclude — which I do, for the reasons set forth below — that the Supreme Court of Virginia would likely hold that VCUHSA is an arm of the Commonwealth for purposes of sovereign immunity. Accordingly, it would have absolute immunity from suit. But even if the Supreme Court were to conclude that VCUHSA is not entitled to absolute immunity, it would be entitled to qualified immunity when performing governmental functions. [Page 245]

a. The Supreme Court of Virginia would likely find that VCUHSA is entitled to absolute immunity.
“[T]he doctrine of sovereign immunity is ‘alive and well’ in Virginia.”36 “Sovereign immunity is ‘a rule of social policy, which protects the state from burdensome interference with the performance of its governmental functions and preserves its control over state funds, property, and instrumentalities.’”37 “Most importantly, the doctrine of sovereign immunity provides for ‘smooth operation of government’ and prevents ‘citizens from improperly influencing the conduct of governmental affairs through the threat or use of vexatious litigation.’”38

In determining whether a particular governmental entity is entitled to absolute immunity, the relevant question is whether the entity is properly considered an arm of the Commonwealth.39 The Supreme Court has “consistently reaffirmed that whether an entity is an arm or agency of the State, and therefore entitled to absolute immunity, depends on the nature of the entity.”40 As the Court explained in Prendergast v. Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority,41 the “correct approach is the one we have long employed in the Commonwealth: the attributes of the particular entity which seeks immunity must be examined to determine whether it is an ‘arm’ of the Commonwealth.”42

Consistent with that approach, when determining the legal status of entities, previous Attorneys General have looked to the particular context and [Page 246] factual circumstances.43 They have not relied exclusively on whether an enabling statute identifies an entity as a "political subdivision."44 Instead, they have “distinguished state agencies from independent political subdivisions by reviewing factors that assess the entity's reliance on the state for control and funding.”45

[A] state agency is an entity that serves as a subordinate or auxiliary body to fulfill a state purpose, is dependent upon state appropriations, and is subject to state control to a great degree. For example, the exercise of powers of an agency is subject to prior approval or postexercise veto by a higher authority of state government.[46]

By contrast, a political subdivision:

is independent from other governmental bodies, in that it may act to exercise those powers conferred upon it by law without seeking the approval of a superior authority. It employs its own consultants, attorneys, accountants and other employees whose salaries are fixed by the political subdivision and it often incurs debts which are not debts of the Commonwealth but are debts of the political subdivision.[47]

There is no doubt that VCUHSA’s enabling statute confers on it a measure of independence as well as specific powers that are characteristic of political [Page 247] subdivisions.48 But based on the factors identified by previous Attorneys General — and in light of VCUHSA’s unique history, status, and interconnectedness with VCU — it is my opinion that the Supreme Court of Virginia would likely find that VCUHSA is, like VCU itself, an arm of the Commonwealth entitled to absolute immunity.

First, VCUHSA, which was created by the General Assembly, remains subject to a substantial degree of State control.49 Every member of VCUHSA’s governing board is either a State official or employee or has been appointed by one. The majority of the Board — 12 of 21 members — serve because of their positions at VCU as faculty, officials, or members of the Board of Visitors:50

• five Board members must be physician-faculty members at VCU, chosen by the Governor and the General Assembly members after considering lists submitted by physician faculty of the VCU School of Medicine;

• five Board members are appointed by the rector of VCU from the VCU board of visitors (who themselves have been appointed by the Governor51); and

• two Board members, who are ex officio voting members, are senior officials at VCU: the President of VCU, and [Page 248] the chief academic and administrative officer for VCU’s Health Sciences School.52

VCU’s significant representation on the Board has been amplified in recent years by the General Assembly, which in 2014 inserted a statutory requirement that the VCU president serve as the Board's chair;53 previously, the Board elected the chair.54

Elected State officials also dictate the Board's composition. Fourteen members of the Board — including the five VCU physician faculty — are appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the House of Delegates, or the Senate Committee on Rules. Although the eight Board members appointed by the Speaker of the House and the Senate Committee on Rules need not be members of the General Assembly themselves, currently three are.55
Not only does the Board's composition ensure State control over VCUHSA, so does the management structure, which commits oversight of VCUHSA's operations to a State employee. Under the Code of Virginia, the “Authority shall be under the immediate supervision and direction of a chief executive officer, [who] . . . shall be the individual who holds the title of Vice-President for Health Sciences” at VCU. Decisions about the CEO's appointment or removal are made jointly by the VCU and VCUHSA boards, but if there is a disagreement between those boards that cannot be resolved, the President of VCU makes the final decision.

Thus, both through operational oversight and Board appointments, the State maintains control over VCUHSA. This has led at least one court to [Page 249] conclude that VCUHSA is immune from suit. In Stewart v. Virginia Commonwealth University, an employment discrimination suit, the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia concluded that VCU, as well as “its health system [and] medical center . . . are agencies of the Commonwealth of Virginia, arms of the State, and consequently entitled to sovereign immunity from suit . . . .” In arriving at that conclusion, the court reasoned that, under the Code of Virginia, VCU is “under the control of the General Assembly,” and that the General Assembly “specifically empower[ed] VCU to operate a medical center . . . , a school of medicine . . . , and [VCUHSA].”

The level of State control distinguishes VCUHSA from other entities that the Supreme Court of Virginia has found not to be immune from suit. For instance, in Virginia Electric & Power Company v. Hampton Redevelopment & Housing Authority, the Supreme Court of Virginia concluded that a municipal housing authority, despite being denominated a political subdivision of the Commonwealth, “is not entitled to the same immunity from tort liability that is enjoyed by the Commonwealth” because it “is an entity purely local in nature.” The authority “does not come into existence by state initiative; local activation, optional with each locality, is required.” Similarly, in Prendergast, the Supreme Court of Virginia held that the authority was not an “arm of the Commonwealth” because it “was not directly created by the Commonwealth” [Page 250] and “is a creature of one or more localities and is essentially subject to their control.” And in Baird v. Stokes, a case involving the Eastern Virginia Medical School (“EVMS”), the Supreme Court found no error in a decision by the Circuit Court of the City of Norfolk that EVMS was not an agency of the Commonwealth in part because its governing board, at that time consisting mostly of appointees by local city councils, “maintained control over EVMS in the selection of leadership, as well as the adoption of rules and regulations.” “EVMS was thus subject to substantial local control and functioned independently of the Commonwealth.”

Second, although I understand that VCUHSA no longer has an “agency code” assigned by the Commonwealth's Department of Planning and Budget, it is clear that VCUHSA remains dependent on significant financial support from the State. In the 2016-2018 biennial budget, for instance, the appropriations for the Department of Medical Assistance Services included approximately $150 million per year from general and non-general funds “to reimburse the Virginia Commonwealth University Health System for indigent health care costs.” As the Joint Legislative Audit & Review Commission has explained, the General Assembly's annual appropriation is unique to VCU Health System and the University of Virginia (“UVA”) Medical Center, “the State's two academic health centers”:

Virginia's Medicaid program provides VCU Health System and UVA Medical Center with additional funding to recognize [Page 251] the important role that these facilities play in providing a health care safety net for Medicaid and uninsured patients in the State, as well as the public interest in ensuring the financial viability of these centers. The State's academic health centers have been reimbursed for well above their Medicaid costs almost every year over the past decade as a result of the additional funding received, which is designed not only to help offset their Medicaid losses but also to offset the uncompensated care they provide to uninsured patients.

VCU Health System and UVA Medical Center have received 84 percent of the $3 billion over the past 10 years for two primary reasons. As the State's two academic health centers, they treat a higher percentage of Medicaid patients (26 percent and 20 percent, respectively) compared to other hospitals (14 percent). They also treat a high volume of indigent patients. In FY 2012, the General Assembly appropriated approximately $237 million in supplemental payments to these two hospitals as compensation for the provision of indigent care.

In addition, the 2016-2018 budget includes a roughly $26-million-per-year appropriation to VCU to fund positions at VCUHSA. An item denominated “State Health Services” (the same descriptive heading that covers appropriations to the UVA Medical Center in UVA’s portion of the budget) provides that the “appropriation includes funding to support 200 instructional and administrative faculty positions and for administrative and classified positions which provide services, through internal service agreements, to the Virginia Commonwealth University Health System Authority.”

The General Assembly also has appropriated money to fund VCUHSA building projects. In 2012, in the VCU portion of the budget (also under “State [Page 252] Health Services”), a $250,000 appropriation from the general fund was “designated for the Virginia Commonwealth University Health System to plan for a replacement facility for the Virginia Treatment Center for Children.”73 The funding for that facility came in 2013 when, as part of the Comprehensive Capital Outlay Program, the General Assembly authorized the issuance of over $1 billion in bonds as well as $56 million in higher-education-operating funds for a number of capital projects, including for a “Replacement Facility for the Virginia Treatment Center for Children” at VCU.74

The General Assembly also controls VCUHSA’s ability to make large capital expenditures. Under § 23.1-2413 of the Code of Virginia, any capital project in excess of $5 million that is approved by the Board must be proposed to the House Appropriations and Senate Finance Committees with information about its “scope, cost, and construction schedule.”75 VCUHSA “may undertake the project unless either Committee raises objections within 30 days of the notification, in which case the Authority shall not undertake the project until such objections are resolved.”76

Third, the unique history of VCUHSA and its ongoing symbiotic relationship with VCU, which itself enjoys absolute immunity,77 weigh significantly in favor of concluding that VCUHSA is also entitled to absolute immunity. To be sure, the General Assembly has defined VCUHSA separately in the Code — albeit under the same subtitle of Title 23.1 dealing with “[Public] [Page 253] Institutions of Higher Education”78 — and conferred on VCUHSA a greater measure of independence from VCU than it previously enjoyed. But the continuing interconnectedness of VCU and VCUHSA make it difficult to conclude that they should be treated differently for purposes of sovereign immunity. In addition to sharing leadership, VCU and VCUHSA jointly employ a number of employees,79 collaborate on initiatives and projects such as the Virginia Treatment Center for Children, and share a stake in the success of VCUHSA.80 In these respects, VCUHSA resembles the UVA Medical Center, which is operated by UVA under the supervision of a board of university officials.81 In Rector & Visitors of the University of Virginia v. Carter,82 the [Page 254] Supreme Court of Virginia concluded that, as part of UVA, the UVA Health System was entitled to sovereign immunity.83 Although, based on the Code, VCUHSA exercises its powers with greater independence than does UVA Medical Center, it would be incongruous for these two State teaching hospitals to be treated differently for purposes of sovereign immunity unless the General Assembly expressly intended that result.84

VCUHSA’s unique history and status call for careful adherence to the well-established principle that “[t]o the extent an entity is entitled to sovereign immunity, there must be clear legislative intent before such immunity may be waived.”85 A waiver of sovereign immunity will not be implied from general statutory language but must be explicitly and expressly stated in the statute.”86 Although this principle is more often invoked to prevent a general statutory waiver such as the Virginia Tort Claims Act87 from sweeping more broadly than the General Assembly intended — rather than in analyzing whether a particular entity’s governing statute entitles it to immunity — I believe it applies here. In light of VCUHSA’s features and functions, as well as its intertwined relationship with VCU, it would be appropriate to expect a clear and express [Page 255] legislative statement before finding that its immunity has been waived, rather than construing that result by implication.

VCUHSA’s governing statute does provide that it may “[s]ue and be sued,”88 but the Supreme Court has held that such language does not abrogate sovereign immunity.89 Indeed, far from expressly waiving any immunity it has, VCUHSA’s enabling statute expressly preserves it: Code § 23.1-2404 permits VCUHSA to procure insurance, but specifies that this “is not a waiver or relinquishment of any sovereign immunity to which the Authority or its officers, directors, employees, or agents are otherwise entitled.”90

For these reasons, it is my opinion that the Supreme Court of Virginia would likely find that VCUHSA is entitled to absolute immunity. But that issue has not been conclusively settled. I am aware that the Circuit Court for the City of Richmond ruled last year that VCUHSA is not an arm of the Commonwealth for purposes of sovereign immunity.91 In my view, the court there did not sufficiently account for the factors discussed above. Recognizing that “[t]o determine if a political subdivision is an arm or extension of the state that enjoys absolute immunity, the court must consider factors that assess the entity’s reliance on the Commonwealth for substantial control,” the court found that [Page 256] VCUHSA has at least “a few attributes of an ‘agency.’”92 But the court placed greater weight on the General Assembly’s authorization of VCUHSA to “exercise independently” the powers conferred on it.93 And it distinguished Rector & Visitors of the University of Virginia v. Carter by reasoning that, “[u]nlike colleges and universities, VCUHSA is not subject to control by the Commonwealth . . . . The mere appointment of board members by the Governor or General Assembly does not constitute the control necessary to become an ‘agency’ or ‘arm’ of the Commonwealth.”94 In my opinion, that formulation discounts the level of State control over VCUHSA, both at the Board level and in its daily operations, which approaches that of the UVA Medical Center.
I also am aware of other support for the proposition that VCUHSA should not be considered a State agency or arm of the Commonwealth in limited contexts other than the one at issue here. The text of VCUHSA’s enabling chapter itself, for example, indicates that it should not be treated as an agency for all purposes: Code § 23.1-2410 authorizes the Auditor of Public Accounts to examine the accounts of VCUHSA, but it stipulates that “the Authority is not a state or governmental agency, advisory agency, public body or agency, or instrumentality for purposes of Chapter 14 (§ 30-130 et seq.) of Title 30.” And in 2004, the Attorney General opined that VCUHSA was required to compensate the State Fire Marshal for inspecting its buildings because they are not state-owned. The Attorney General reasoned that, because it is a “‘public body corporate’ and a ‘political subdivision of the Commonwealth,’ [VCUHSA] is neither a state agency nor a state institution for the purpose of answering the question you pose.”

Those points do not undermine my ultimate opinion that the Supreme Court likely would find VCUHSA to be an arm of the Commonwealth and therefore entitled to absolute immunity. At most, they confirm that, as stated above, an authority may be considered an agency or arm of the Commonwealth in some contexts but not in others. More informative on the question of VCUHSA’s immunity is the control that the Commonwealth retains over VCUHSA and its leadership, operations, and funding.

b. VCUHSA is entitled to immunity for performing governmental functions.

If VCUHSA is not an agency or arm of the Commonwealth entitled to absolute immunity, it is at least a quasi-municipal corporation, and therefore entitled to immunity for its governmental, as opposed to proprietary, functions.

“The shield of sovereign immunity does not just apply to the State . . . .” Other entities enjoy immunity in certain circumstances. Among these are municipalities, municipal corporations, and the ill-defined category of “quasi-municipal corporations,” which the Supreme Court of Virginia has recognized as entities that are “not municipal corporations in the strict sense of the term” but that have been “created to perform an essentially public service.” As the Supreme Court has summarized the rule, “municipal corporations perform two types of functions — governmental and proprietary. Municipal corporations are immune from liability ‘when performing governmental functions, but are not when exercising proprietary functions.’”

The Supreme Court’s analysis for determining whether an entity is a municipal corporation depends on six essential attributes of a municipal corporation:

(1) Creation as a body corporate and politic and as a political subdivision of the Commonwealth; (2) Creation to serve a public purpose; (3) Power to have a common seal, to sue and be sued, to enter into contracts, to acquire, hold and dispose of its revenue, personal and real property; (4) Possession of the power of eminent domain; (5) Power to borrow money and issue bonds which are tax exempt, with interest on such bonds enjoying the same status under tax laws as the interest on bonds of other political subdivisions of the state; (6) Management of the corporation vested in a board of directors or a commission.

Virginia courts and Attorneys General have found a number of entities to be municipal and quasi-municipal corporations based on these factors and the circumstances of each case.

Applying the six factors here points to the conclusion that VCUHSA is a quasi-municipal corporation, even assuming for argument’s sake that it is not a State agency or arm of the Commonwealth. First, VCUHSA was “established as a public body corporate, public instrumentality, and political subdivision of the Commonwealth.” Second, as its governing statute repeatedly describes, VCUHSA was created to serve a public purpose, including “to provide for the health, welfare, convenience, knowledge, benefit, and prosperity of the residents of the Commonwealth.” Third, VCUHSA has the power to have a seal, to sue and be sued, to enter into contracts, and to control its revenues and property. Fourth, it has the power of eminent domain (although its exercise of that power is subject to gubernatorial approval). Fifth, it has the power to borrow money and issue tax-exempt bonds. Finally, as discussed at length above, VCUHSA’s management is vested in a board, albeit one controlled by State officials.

Thus, VCUHSA satisfies all six factors and therefore could qualify as a quasi-municipal corporation entitled to immunity in fulfilling governmental functions, even if it were not considered to be a State agency or arm of the Commonwealth. I do not offer any opinion on the specific functions that would qualify for VCUHSA or its employees to be immune from suit. “Because no bright line rule exists to distinguish between governmental and proprietary functions, whether the exercise of any particular power . . . would be governmental or proprietary would turn on facts not presented.”
But I note that the General Assembly has broadly defined the “governmental” nature of VCUHSA's activities. In § 23.1-2401(B) of the Code of Virginia, it stated that the purpose of VCUHSA is:

to exercise public and essential governmental functions to provide for the health, welfare, convenience, knowledge, benefit, and prosperity of the residents of the Commonwealth . . . by delivering and supporting the delivery of medical care and related services to such residents and [Page 260] individuals, providing educational opportunities in the medical field and related disciplines, conducting and facilitating research in the medical field and related disciplines, and enhancing the delivery of health care and related services to the Commonwealth's indigent population.113

Moreover, in § 23.1-2404(B), the General Assembly provided that the exercise of VCUHSA's statutory powers “shall be deemed the performance of essential governmental functions and matters of public necessity for the entire Commonwealth in the provision of health care, medical and health sciences education, and research . . . .”114 The General Assembly also required that the “Authority shall operate, maintain, and expand, as appropriate, teaching hospitals and related facilities for the benefit of the Commonwealth and its citizens and such other individuals who might be served by the Authority.”115

Whether or not a particular VCUHSA employee shares in VCUHSA's immunity remains, as the Supreme Court made clear last year in Pike v. Hagaman,116 a separate question determined by application of the test in James v. Jane.117 In Pike the Supreme Court applied James to conclude that a nurse employed by a VCUHSA hospital was entitled to sovereign immunity.118 Although VCUHSA's immunity as a State entity was not an issue before the Supreme Court, because the plaintiff had conceded in the court below that VCUHSA itself “was indeed entitled to sovereign immunity,”119 the Court's decision that the nurse was immune from suit underscores VCUHSA's own immunity. Analyzing the second James factor — the State's interest in the nurse's function — the Court examined VCUHSA's governing statute and held that, in providing the specialized health services offered by VCUHSA, the nurse [Page 261] was “serving an essential governmental function” and “carrying out the express interest of the Commonwealth.”120 Analyzing the fourth James factor — the level of control by the State over an employee — the Court found that the nurse was subject to a high degree of State control because, among other things, the “state hospital pays her wages and determines her schedule and whether she can take leave. This fourth factor also points in the direction of sovereign immunity.”121

2. Whether recovery against VCUHSA for negligent acts of employees is limited to $100,000.

You also have asked for confirmation that “the amount of any recovery against the VCU Health System Authority for damages, loss of property or personal injury or death caused by the negligent or wrongful act or omission of employees of VCU Health System Authority is limited to $100,000 in accordance with V[irginia] Code § 8.01-195.3.” The Code section you cite is part of the Virginia Tort Claims Act (the “VTCA”), which is a limited waiver of the Commonwealth's immunity and provides that:

the Commonwealth shall be liable for claims for money . . . on account of damage to or loss of property or personal injury or death caused by the negligent or wrongful act or omission of any employee while acting within the scope of his employment under circumstances where the Commonwealth or transportation district, if a private person, would be liable to the claimant for such damage, loss, injury or death. . . . The amount recoverable by any claimant shall not exceed . . . $100,000 for causes of action accruing on or after July 1, 1993 or . . . the maximum limits of any liability policy maintained to insure against such negligence or other tort, if such policy is in force at the time of the act or omission complained of, whichever is greater, exclusive of interest and costs.122 [Page 262]

An “employee” is defined as “any officer, employee or agent of any agency, or any person acting on behalf of an agency in an official capacity,” while “agency” is broadly defined to include “any department, institution, authority, instrumentality, board or other administrative agency of the government of the Commonwealth . . . .”123

While the VTCA exposes the Commonwealth to limited liability for the negligent acts of employees of State entities — including authorities — the VTCA does not expose entities such as VCUHSA to liability themselves. Thus, in Rector & Visitors of the University of Virginia v. Carter, the Supreme Court rejected an effort to hold UVA liable for the negligent acts of a resident physician in the UVA Health System. The Court explained:

Absent an express statutory or constitutional provision waiving sovereign immunity, the Commonwealth and its agencies are immune from liability for the tortious acts or omissions of their agents and employees. . . . The limited waiver provided for in the Act will be strictly construed because the Act is a statute in derogation of the common law. Under the plain language of the Act, the Commonwealth (and certain “transportation districts” not here relevant) are the only entities for which sovereign immunity is waived. The Act contains no express provision waiving sovereign immunity for agencies of the Commonwealth, which we have stated repeatedly is a mandatory requirement before waiver occurs. As an agency of the Commonwealth, UVA is entitled to sovereign immunity under the common law absent an express constitutional or statutory provision to the contrary. There is no such waiver in the Act or elsewhere.[124]

For the same reasons, VCUHSA may not be held liable under the VTCA for the negligent acts of its employees, whether it is considered an agency or an authority. And because the VTCA does not waive VCUHSA’s immunity, it is not liable for any amount of damages, let alone up to the statutory cap of $100,000 that would otherwise apply. [Page 263]

CONCLUSION

In response to your first question, it is my opinion that the Supreme Court of Virginia likely would find, in light of VCUHSA’s functions and history, that it is a State agency or arm of the Commonwealth for the purposes of sovereign immunity, and therefore is entitled to absolute immunity from suit. Even if the Court were not to agree, however, VCUHSA also satisfies the criteria of a quasi-municipal corporation and therefore would be entitled to immunity for governmental functions. In answer to your second question, the VTCA exposes the Commonwealth, but not VCUHSA, to limited liability for the negligent acts of its employees.

The term “hospital facilities” is defined as “all property or rights in property, real and personal, tangible and intangible, including all facilities suitable for providing hospital and health care services . . . and other related and supporting facilities owned, leased, operated, or used, in whole or in part, by Virginia Commonwealth University as part of, or in connection with, MCV Hospitals in the normal course of its operations as a teaching, research, and medical treatment facility.” Section 23.1-2400 (2016).

AG 305, 308 (citation omitted) (“[T]he inquiry must go beyond the statutory provision under which the Authority was created and operated. The actual functioning of the Authority must be reviewed to determine factually whether the Authority is operated as an agency or a political subdivision of the State.”).

49 The analysis herein regarding State control is offered in the limited context of assessing VCUHSA’s entitlement to sovereign immunity and should not be construed as opining on the relationship between any State entities and employees for purposes of determining respondeat superior liability. Cf. McDonald v. Hampton Training Sch. for Nurses, 254 Va. 79, 82, 486 S.E.2d 299 n.1 (1997) (distinguishing between “the status of an individual for purposes of respondeat superior” and “whether a governmental employee is entitled to sovereign immunity”). Nor should this analysis be construed as opining that a principal-agent relationship exists between VCU and VCU Health System or between VCU and any individual acting in his or her capacity as a VCU Health System employee.

50 See § 23.1-2402(A).

The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit later vacated the district court's dismissal of Stewart's Title VII claim “against VCU and its allied medical facilities” in light of Supreme Court precedent that, “in enacting Title VII, Congress properly abrogated the states' Eleventh Amendment immunity for such [employment discrimination] suits.” Stewart, 414 F. 76 Id. See also § 23.1-2413(B) (requiring that projects in excess of $5 million “shall be . . . presented again” to the General Assembly’s finance committees “[b]efore the Authority materially increases the size or materially changes the scope of any capital project for which construction has commenced”).

78 See Virginia Code Title 23.1, Subtitle IV. VCUHSA also retains the power, like public universities, to seek financing from the Virginia College Building Authority. See § 23.1-2404(A)(10) (VCUHSA has power to “[s]eek financing from, incur or assume indebtedness to, and enter into contractual commitments with the Virginia Public Building Authority and the Virginia College Building Authority, which authorities may borrow money and make and issue negotiable notes, bonds, and other evidences of indebtedness to provide such financing relating to the hospital facilities or any project.”); § 23.1-1014(A)(2) (Supp. 2017) (“Each covered institution may . . . [s]eek financing from, incur, or assume indebtedness to, and enter into contractual commitments with, the Virginia Public Building Authority and the Virginia College Building Authority, which authorities may borrow money and make and issue negotiable notes, bonds, notes, or other obligations to provide such financing relating to facilities or any project.”).

79 See 2017 Budget Bill — HB 1500 (Chapter 836), Item 210. VIRGINIA’S LEGISLATIVE INFORMATION SYSTEM, available at https://budget.lis.virginia.gov/item/2017/1/HB1500/Chapter/1/210/ (last visited Dec. 6, 2017) (appropriating more than $26 million per year to VCU for “200 instructional and administrative faculty positions and for administrative and classified positions which provide services, through internal service agreements, to [VCUHSA]”).

80 See § 23.1-2428 (2016) (providing that, if VCUHSA is dissolved, “all assets of the Authority, after satisfaction of creditors, shall revert to the University”); § 23.1-2418(A) (providing that the “Authority may issue bonds for any of its purposes, including . . . to refund bonds or other obligations issued by or on behalf of the Authority, the University, or otherwise . . . . The Authority may guarantee, assume, or otherwise agree to pay, in whole or in part, indebtedness issued by the University . . . resulting in the acquisition or construction of facilities for the benefit of the Authority or the refinancing of such indebtedness.”).

81 UVA Medical Center’s Operating Board has a composition somewhat similar to VCUHSA’s. Its voting members consist of the Rector and five other members of UVA board of visitors (including the chair), all of whom have been appointed by the governor; its non-voting members include eight specific University officials, and up to six “public” members. See Health System Board, UVA BOARD OF VISITORS, available at http://www.virginia.edu/bov/mcob.html (last visited Dec. 6, 2017).

83 Id. at 246 (noting that even though “‘agencies’ are nothing more than administrative divisions of the Commonwealth . . . [t]he VTCA waives the sovereign immunity of the Commonwealth only. If the General Assembly desired in the Act to waive the sovereign immunity of the Commonwealth’s agencies in addition to the immunity of the Commonwealth, it could have easily done so. It did not.”).

84 See § 23.1-2401(B)(3)-(5) (VCUHSA shall support activities of VCU’s Health Sciences School, provide a site for faculty research, and “[s]erve as the principal teaching and training hospital for undergraduate and graduate students.”); Pike v. Hagaman, 292 Va. 209, 218, 787 S.E.2d 89 (2016) (referring to VCUHSA as a “state hospital”). Elizabeth River Tunnel Dist. v. Beecher, 202 Va. 452, 457, 117 S.E.2d 685 (1961). See also 2006 Op. Va. Att'y Gen. 95, 97, 2006 Va. AG 95, 97 (footnote omitted) (“[T]he Virginia Supreme Court and the Attorney General consistently have interpreted the power to ‘sue and be sued’ or to ‘contract and be contracted with’ insufficient to constitute a waiver of immunity or consent to suit.”).

Section 23.1-2404(A)(12). A handful of other statutes contain similar language. See VA. CODE ANN. § 33.2-2608(A)(3) (2014) (Hampton Roads Transportation Accountability Commission); § 23.1-1008(3) (2016) (institutions of higher education covered by the Restructured Higher Education Financial and Administration Operations Act); § 15.2-5340.2 (2012) (hospital authorities); § 62.1-132.1(A)(4) (Supp. 2017) (Virginia Port Authority); § 15.2-5205(19) (2012) (hospital or health center commission); § 15.2-5374(19) (Supp. 2017) (Southwest Virginia Health Authority). I do not suggest that the General Assembly intended any particular level of immunity by this language — only that, combined with the other factors discussed, this language makes an express waiver of sovereign immunity more critical.

See Lisa Stanley v. Virginia Commonwealth Univ. Health Sys. Auth. a/k/a Virginia Commonwealth Univ. Health Sys., No. CL16-3016 (Va. Cir. Ct. (City of Richmond) Oct. 11, 2016). It nonetheless found that it is entitled to sovereign immunity “because it is a municipal or quasi-municipal corporation that perform[s] a governmental function.” Id., slip op. at 4.
